

Any books to spare?

As you've probably seen in our blog, we're collecting gently-used children's books for the London Children's Book Project. These old books will get a second life in a school where children with few to no books of their own can take them home to keep. Not only will your best loved stories inspire another child and their family, but it's a great chance for a clear-out ahead of the festive season to ensure they stay out of landfill.

What to do

1. Pop any suitable books into a carrier bag
2. Attach this tag with some box string to the neck of the bag
3. Leave the bag out for your driver with your boxes

*What are we looking for?

Yes please - Gently used or new children's books for ages 0-11. Do you have more than a bag's worth of books to donate? Contact our Customer Team to let them know and we can arrange to collect them from you

No thanks - Partially used colouring or activity books, dictionaries or academic study books.
